Festivals

One of the major festivals on the island is the annual Wine Festival held in Limassol during September, where many wineries offer samples of their wines for a period of ten days.

Throughout its history Limassol was known as the town of fun and entertainment. Carnival begins 10 days before Lent. Festivities begin with the Carnival King entering the city, decorated for the occasion. On Sunday the youngest participate in the Children's Parade and then the Serenades' shows become the focus of the event. During the 10-day Carnival period many hotels and clubs organize fancy-dress parties. The Sunday of the second week of the festivities is the climax of the Carnival. This is when the Grand Carnival Parade takes place. Colourful floats and groups of fancy-dressed people, singing and dancing, move along the Makarios III Avenue in Limassol.

The Limassol Beer Festival takes place at Molos Waterfront in July, and the entrance is free. Visitors get a chance to enjoy various local and imported beers including KEO, Heineken, Becks, Amstel, Stella Artois, Budweiser and Hoegaarden.
